

Classroom Activity - Air Quality and Human Health

Identify sources of information about air quality and its potential impacts on human health in your community.

Explore whether the air quality in your area poses potential risks to your health.

Make a list of five things you and your family could do to reduce the risk.

